1. On 16 July 1949, 118 aircraft were counted on the field, consisting of eighty-nine FE 2s, three PS 84s (DC-3 type), twenty-five PO 2s and one of a small unknown type. The aircraft were divided into two almost equal distinct units lined up on the North and South sides of the landing area.
2. The radio station in the woodland clearing beyond the Road, East of the airfield, now consists of three masts set in a triangle, two of them 10 m. high and the third 13 m. high. All are supported by stays.
3. Just Southeast of this radio station is another one consisting of five ten m. masts forming a square with one mast in the center, the latter looking like an Adcock-type aerial.
4. The radar equipment has been moved to a position some 120 meters from the Eberswalde Finowfurt road and is lightly camouflaged. As before, it consists of two trucks and a small tender in the middle, flanked by two radar trailers parked parallel to the road.
5. The landing area is being enlarged on the western side, and levelling is in progress.
